Baker Aviation Maintenance Reveals New Hawker Inspection Pricing

April 9, 2013 – Addison, Texas – Baker Aviation, a full-service aircraft maintenance, management and charter company in North Texas, recently announced a new Limited Time Introductory offer for Hawker Inspections of $18,500. The special Hawker rate includes 12, 24, or 48 month inspection programs with certain limitations described below.

"We continue to expand our business with newly added hangar space, topping out at over 25,000 square feet and additional key management personnel, all with a renewed emphasis on customer satisfaction," stated Ray Goyco, Jr., Chief Operating Officer for Baker Aviation Maintenance. "We want Hawker operators to experience Baker Aviation Maintenance, all our upgrades and improvements therefore we are offering this unbeatable rate for a limited time."

This special Hawker flat rate pricing excludes structural codes and squawks which will be billed additionally, at an hourly rate. For more information about this limited offer, please call Joe Wehrle, Baker Aviation's Hawker Maintenance expert at 972-248-0457 or email Joe@baker-aviation.com.

Last year Baker Aviation Maintenance received its FAA Repair Station certification (FAA CRS# 5BVR011C) and now specializes in airframe maintenance for Hawker, King Air, Beechjet, Citation, Learjet, Challenger and Gulfstream aircraft. The Baker Aviation facility in Ft. Worth (KFTW) accommodates Gulfstream aircraft and other long-range cabin aircraft for maintenance inspections and repair. Paint and interior services are also available through the Jet Mall alliance at Spinks airport. One of the premier turbine jet repair stations at the Addison Airport, Baker Aviation is prepared to activate evening shifts as work timelines and customer demands dictate.
